TWO SETS

Of State Officers Ready for Business at Frankfort.

OTHER INTERESTING CAPITOL NEWS

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 26.—The State Board of Election Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Contest, this afternoon awarded certificates of election to the Democratic contestants for the minor State offices.

The new State officers called upon Gov. Beckham, in Parlor A, at the Capital Hotel, after which they were sworn in by Sam J. Shavelford, Clerk of the Court of Appeals. According to all the requirements of the law, they are now the legal and duly qualified officers of the Commonwealth, ready to transact business, and give warning to all persons that any business they may attempt to transact with the Republican claimants is upon their own responsibility.

Auditor Coulter and Treasurer Hager will send out letters to all revenue paying officers in the State, such as Sheriffs, Circuit and County Clerks and Trustees of the jury fund, that all reports must be made to them, and warning them not to turn over any of the State funds to the Republicans.

The boudamen of the Republicans will be responsible for any imprisonment or irregularities. The Republicans are only de facto officers, and the Democratic lawyers say that their official functions ceased the moment the contestants qualified.

The new officers went to the State buildings and formally demanded possession of the buildings and records. They were received politely, but all met with a positive, "I must decline to do so."

When Treasurer Hager approached Mr. Day, the latter said: "I've locked up office, and I can't turn it over to you tonight," laughing as he replied.

Attorney General Breckinridge has the advantage of the others. His office is himself, and all he needs is the recognition of the State Fiscal Court, over which Judge Cantrill presides, and of the Court of Appeals.

With reference to the use of the militia, the commissioners had some plain words to say, declaring that the Louisville Legion was an illegally organized political machine. Referring to the "Honest Election League" as the off-spring of the Republican Board of Trade, the commission says: "There is no room to doubt that this league, while professing to be actuated by motives of the most exalted patriotism was nevertheless intensely partisan in character and willing to go any length in the subversion of popular rights to accomplish the defeat of the Democratic ticket."

The arraignment of Bradley who brought out the militia is strong. The law is quoted on the subject and the references to the military are particularly interesting. Judge Toney comes in for a few thrusts from the sharp pen of the commissioners, while Judge Evans' charge to the grand jury is declared to have been a part of the conspiracy to create "what might be truthfully denominated a reign of terror to intimidate voters."

Under the caption "the secrecy of the ballot," the thin ballots in Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties are discussed. They summarize the matter as follows: "In a number of counties both Democratic and Republican whose voters have been contested before this board, the character of ballot is open to adverse criticism, but mature reflection convinces this board that in only three counties considered are the irregularities in this regard so patent that it will justify summary action. It is the deliberate judgment of the board that the ballots employed in the counties of Johnson, Martin and Magoffin are illegal ballots."

After throwing out the vote of the city of Louisville and of Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties, the board summarizes the vote of the State, showing an average Democratic majority of about 3,000.

The House committee made a favorable report for the $100,000 appropriation bill designed to bring to justice the murderers of William Goebel. Joseph H. Lewis, John K. Hendrick, B. W. Bradburn, John D. Clardy and W. M. Moore are named as commissioners to assist Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin in the management of the fund. The substitute provides that not more than $25,000 of the $100,000 shall be expended for working up the case, and that the remaining $75,000 be used for rewards. It also provides that none of the money shall be paid for attorneys' fees. The attorneys have volunteered their services.

The caucus of the Democratic members nominated Mr. Green, of Christian county to succeed Henry Goebel as prison commissioner. On the first ballot the vote was as follows: George 33; Green 23; Landram 22. On the third ballot Landram's vote went to Green and nominated him.

After the adoption of the resolution directing that the Senate and House chambers be draped in mourning out of respect for the memory of Gov. William Goebel, long black streamers were hung about the balconies and entwined around the pillars.

The McChord railroad bill passed the Senate, every Democrat voting for it.

A few mornings ago, Senator Crenshaw was standing on the spot where Goebel was shot, looking at the surroundings, as so many people do while passing up the walk. He glanced up at a third story window of the Executive building, and there he saw three soldiers, one of whom had a rifle sighted with dead aim at him. As the Senator looked up the three soldiers in the window laughed and drew back the rifle. It was an unpleasant experience, although the Senator was not at all alarmed.

The attorneys for both Democrats and Republicans agreed to submit the controversy to Circuit Judge Field in Louisville, and then both sides are to assist in getting a speedy decision from the Court of Appeals, if either side appeals from Judge Field's court, and a similar agreement covers any application for a writ of error to the Supreme Court of the United States, should either party apply for a writ.

President Protom Carter, of the Senate, has called a special election for Monday, March 5, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator Goebel before he was sworn in as Governor. Hon. M. L. Harrison has been nominated by the Democrats.

OUR ORATORS.

Contest for the Gold and Silver Tokens of Supremacy.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING

Last Thursday night the Opera House was crowded with people anxious to witness the battle royal between the five chosen champions of Marion Graded School.

These annual oratorical contests have grown to be one of the great occasions of this section, and the people of the town and county, as well as many in neighboring towns take great interest in these pleasant as well as stirring contests. Last Thursday night when the five contestants appeared on the stage they faced one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences that has yet gathered to witness these events.

The programme as published in the Press last week was observed except in the matter of judges.

At the last minute a change in the judges was made, and the following were selected to award the medals: Revs. Dupuy and Randolph, of this place, Messrs. Neblett and Worley of Evansville, and Squires, of St. Louis. All of these were practically strangers to the contestants.

After the selection of the judges, came the orations in the following order: Walter Walker, Julius Fohs, Charles Moore, Melville Geyn and Ross Schwab.

The orations were all upon timely themes and were the productions of the students of the school.

There was a happy mixture of vocal music by a choir of school girls and boys.

When the last speaker had finished the judges retired and the first ballot resulted in a vote for each of the five, then another ballot and no decision. After two ballots the judges were allowed to discuss the question, and finally a decision was reached. Mr. Julius Fohs was awarded the gold medal, and Miss Rosa Schwab the silver. Rev. Dupuy presented the medals in an excellent and timely speech, and while each one of the five had his or her partisans, the decision was eminently satisfactory, and the vanquished accepted the result with becoming grace, and the victors wore the laurels with becoming modesty.

The programme was a splendid one. Mr. Evans, the principal, thinks it the best one of the three annual contests, and the audience pretty generally agrees with him.

Each of the orators was perfectly acquainted with his theme, and each handled the subject without a break, and all put life and power into the effort. While all did not win medals, all made reputations that will do to build upon.

MAY BE FATAL

Phil Drennon Meets With An Accident at Princeton.

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 27.—Last night Phil Drennon, an engineer on the Hopkinsville branch of the I. C., while repairing the air pump on his locomotive in the yards here, was perhaps fatally injured. A jar from a passing train caused his engine to start, and the air pump, weighing four or five hundred pounds, fell against him, hurting him internally and cutting a deep gash in his head.

"One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy I ever used for coughs and colds. It is unequalled for whooping cough. Children all like it," writes H. N. Williams, Gentryville, Ind. Never fails. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. It's early use prevents croup.—J. H. Morse.

AN OLD RESIDENT.

Mrs. J. N. Woods Passes Peacefully Away in Eternal Sleep.

Mrs. Mary A. Woods died at her home in this city at 11 o'clock Monday morning, after a brief illness. She had been in declining health some time and had been gradually failing as old age came on, and while her friends did not hope for her to live many years, her death at this time was rather sudden and unexpected.

Mrs. Woods was the relict of the late J. N. Woods. She was reared in Indiana, and was married to Mr. Woods at Madison, that State, in 1848. Since that time, with the exception of one or two years, she has continually resided at Marion and was probably the oldest citizen in point of residence of the town. She was first married to Henry Marble, a brother of the late Sumner Marble, and as a result of that marriage one daughter was born, Mrs. H. A. Cameron, of this place. Two years after the death of Mr. Marble she and Mr. Woods were married and the union was a happy one. Mr. Woods died about two years ago, and since his death his faithful companion has been gradually declining in health. Surrounded by loving ones, she passed peacefully away Monday. The funeral took place from the residence yesterday, and the remains were placed beside her husband in the old cemetery. She had many friends in Marion, who loved and admired her many virtues and she was respected by all.

STORY OF BRUTALITY.

Sickening Cruelty in Western Kentucky Results in Poor Negro's Death

Benton, Ky., Feb. 26.—A horrible story of crime has just reached here from Little Cypress neighborhood, fifteen miles away. Saturday John, James and Joe Greer, coming from Paducah, took John Thomas, an aged inoffensive colored man, in a wagon with them, and at the point of a pistol compelled him to drink a quart of whiskey and a pint of wine. Then they beat him in a horrible manner, tied him to the wagon wheel and dragged him awhile. Then they put him in a creek until he was nearly dead; then shot him three times and hung him across a fence, where he was found yesterday morning. The Coroner's jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict declaring John, James and Joe Greer responsible for the death of the negro. Sheriff Wallace and a posse have just left for the scene and trouble is feared.

EVIDENCE

Has Been Secured by the Detectives and Arrests May Follow

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 26.—It was stated tonight by those in charge of the Goebel assassination case that sufficient evidence has been secured to prove one of the most diabolical conspiracies in the history of the country. The detectives have run down nearly all the clues, and have located their men preparatory to making the arrests. Nearly all the witnesses have given written statements, which are backed up with circumstantial evidence.

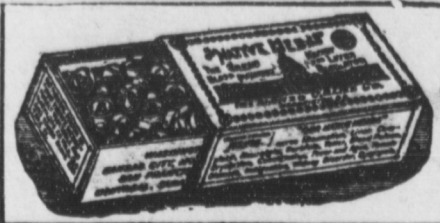

The detectives are trying hard to keep their work a secret, but through other sources bits of the information are gradually coming to light.

DEWEY'S VICTORY

Washington, Feb. 26.—The United States Court of Claims today rendered a decision in the claim of Admiral Dewey for prize money on account of the destruction of the Spanish fleet in Manila harbor. The court decided against the Admiral's contention that the enemy's force was superior to his and awarded him $9,570.

MARRIED IN EVANSVILLE.

A Prosperous Crittenden Farmer Finds a Wife in Michigan

Martin Gahagan, of Weston, Ky.,
and Mrs. Amelia Sabina of Coldwater,
Mich., were married in Evansville Wednesday. The wedding was the result of correspondence. The bride and groom never knew one another until they met in this city.

The groom is a well known and prosperous farmer of Weston, Ky.
He is in his seventieth year and carries himself with a degree of erectness for one of that age. He was born in Armstrong county, Pennsylvania, and came from the sturdy Pennsylvania German stock. This is his third venture in the matrimonial field and he has a family of five children, all grown.

Mrs. Amelia Sabina, the bride, is a dressmaker and gives her age at 53 years. Her residence was in Coldwater, Mich. She is a lady who bears a determined expression on her countenance. Her face is beginning to become wrinkled, while silvery locks are displacing the jet black hair of a few years ago. Her eyes are very penetrating and have not lost their girlhood lustre, while her figure robed in a blue traveling suit, made her an impressive bride for one of her age.
This is her second marriage.

Mr. Gahagan, who is a well to do farmer living near Weston, Ky., read an advertisement in a matrimonial journal several weeks ago. It read:
"I am a widow." He answered the advertisement and a courtship followed. The climax was marriage.

Immediately after the ceremony
Mr. and Mrs. Gahagan left for Weston, Ky., where they will reside in the future. The marriage ceremony took place at the Victoria hotel.—
Evansville Courier.

Mr. Gahagan, as the Courier says, is a prosperous farmer, he is one of the well-to-do substantial men of the county, and his many friends throughout the county will join with the PRESS in extending congratulations and in hoping that the twain will find the union a happy one, and as the shades of evening began to fall afterwhile each will find in the other that comfort that cheers and makes placid old age.

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomach and indigestion." S. M. DeWitt free a J. H. Morse's. Sold by all dealers in all civilized countries.

The Liar's Reply

Thanks to the Board of Health for making no secret of their names, also for explaining their action in the past and inviting inspection of their proceedings in the future. I have no doubt to do either. So again I hand you my short leg's support a good pair of lungs (equal to a Commanche Indian,) hence I have the power to howl, but only for justice. In regard to Dr. J. J. Clark quarantining my family, will eat but I do not have the faintest remembrance of him doing so, or any other fellow or person in my neighborhood. If he will only study a moment I think he will also remember that the room was under the quarantine law when he was called to see Mr. Hull. Quarantined by one of the Board (Dr. Moreland) four days before he (Dr. Clark) made his visit. I also have a peep house in our little villa which was ordered and constructed under the supervision of one of the Board. The same is free to anyone having a contagion, and will guarantee it will not cost them or the county one cent. My hopes are that Dr. Clark will be well supplied with sheets. The next visit he makes me, as you all know I am short (just stuff them in your inside pocket)
I am not acquainted with Charlie Morgan, have nothing against him, and am pleased to hear the Board has not. But if the Board had, what does that spell? He need not lose any sleep. I propounded that corker for the benefit of the trio that signed their names, and not for the whole of Marion as you would have it seem.

There has been nearly three hundred cases of the would-be in this county,
and how many deaths caused by it?
There is just one answer "none".
There is no dread to be suffered in having this smallpox. Only a little anxiety about "what a tax!" The undertakers were in glee, Dr. J. E., when you made that false report, viz:
Hull will be dead before morning.
But they changed their thoughts to other things, when next they heard Hull was still alive and bid fair to recover. Wishing you boundless success and prosperity, I am still your short legged friend. J. H. ORME

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Right now with all of these rains and snows, and freezes and thaws, there are more mud than blood-waders in Kentucky.

The National Court of Claims cuts Dewey's claim for prize money in half. That kind of sounds like our own Court of Claims.

The English bid fair to conquer the Boers before Uncle Sam kills enough of the Filipinos to safely set up business in that country.

With measles, smallpox, whooping cough, politics and bad roads, there is no special demand in this country for themes to talk about.

With two sets of State officials, Kentucky ought to be the best governed State in the Union, but we'd give our interest in both for the discovery of the assassins.

Spar mining has completely submerged our gold and silver booms in this country. A year ago, we were all hunting gold and silver mines, now a spar mine is all the style.

Basil Duke posing before a legislative committee in the attitude of fear lest the passage of the McCord bill hurt the common people is a sight to start all the horses in the state a laughing.

What is the difference between buying a Winchester to shoot a man with and buying a newspaper to defame, misrepresent and malign him until, as a result of that malignity, the trigger is pulled and the victim falls bleeding?

Carnegie's income yields him one dollar every time the clock ticks and his and Rockefeller's combined is about four dollars per tick. These are the infants whose industries we must have a tariff to protect, and shipping subsidies to maintain.

Only two more weeks of the Legislature. If that body will submit a constitutional amendment preparing the way for the good old face to face way of voting, this session will add another nosegay to its wreath of its immortals.

The L. & N. hired newspapers want the assassins caught, but frown upon every effort made looking to the accomplishment of that thing. In other words they want a ferry, but no road leading to it. Sincerity is as much of a jewel as consistency, but neither of these are sought by the newspapers.

Senator Joe Blackburn in a Washington interview comes out strongly for the old viva voce way of voting. He says: I do not believe that the present legislature could do anything so well calculated to entitle it to the gratitude of our people as to open the way for a return to the old system.

Our Populist friends insist that the condition of affairs in this State is due to the two old parties. With all due respect to our esteemed friends, it occurs to us that the perpetuity of the human race is due to man and woman; without these important factors there would soon be an end to all things.

The Court of Appeals has rendered a decision to the effect that it money is placed in the hands of a stakeholder upon a wager either party may notify the stakeholder not to pay it to the winner, and if he does so the amount may be recovered from him. This will no doubt materially lessen the betting evil, especially during elections, and the Court of Appeals is to be commended for its decision.—Kentucky State Democrat.

An epidemic of measles have been raging in and about Lola for several weeks.

We have a good Fellowship Club here, and it has improved wonderfully this winter, and the work done on a large scale. Date for meeting any rainy day. For further particulars apply to the Secretary.

We, the democrats and citizens of Lola, condemn in the strongest terms, the cowardly assassination of Gov. Goebel. Some people are not contented with slandering and heaping abuse upon him while living, but want to continue it on the dead. If they only had one fourth of the brain, manhood and courage of the lamented governor, they would have more than they have now. In the language of the Home Journal: "You let a man tell you what he thinks of his neighbor and you may know by what his neighbor thinks of him."

KANSAS CITY

Gets the National Democratic National Convention.

IT WILL MEET JULY FOURTH

Washington, Feb. 22.—The next National Democratic Convention will be held at Kansas City, Mo., July 4.

This was the decision of the Democratic National Committee, which met at the Hotel Raleigh today to fix the time and place of holding the convention. Milwaukee was the only other city which competed for the honor of entertaining the convention, and the poor showing she made when the vote was taken (the result being Kansas City 40, Milwaukee 9,) caused general surprise.

The claims of the rival cities as to hotel accommodations, railroad and telegraphic facilities were presented in open session by representatives of each city, and subsequently in executive session. Former Gov. W. J. Stone on behalf of Kansas City, and National Committeeman E. C. Wall, on behalf of Milwaukee, explained the financial inducements which each city was willing to make. Each offered the committee $50,000, but in addition Kansas City, was willing to furnish hotel accommodations for the members of the committee and the hall, with decorations and music, free of expense to the committee.

The meeting of the committee was presided over by Chairman Jones. Every State Territory was represented, either by the National Committeeman or by proxy.

There was a vacancy from the District of Columbia, caused by the death of Laurence Gardner. James L. Norris had been elected to fill this vacancy, but his election was contested, and a committee of three was appointed to report upon the contest.

Then the selection of a place for the convention was taken up and several hours were devoted to the arguments of the boomers of the rival cities.

The vote upon fixing the date of the convention was: In favor of July 4, 27 votes, June 14, 21 votes; May 9, 1 vote.

The National Committee issued the following call:

The National Democratic Committee, having met in the city of Washington on the 22d day of February, 1900, has appointed Wednesday, the 4th day of July, as the time chosen, the city of Kansas City, Mo., as the place for holding the National Democratic Convention. Each State is entitled to a representative therein equal to double the number of its Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States, and each Territory, Alaska, Indian Territory and the District of Columbia shall have six delegates. All Democratic, conservative, reformed citizens of the United States, irrespective of past political associations and differences, who can unite with us in the effort for pure, economical and constitutional government, and who favor the republic and oppose the empire, are cordially invited to join us in sending delegates to the convention.

The committee at 6:30 p. m. adjourned to meet at Kansas City July 3.

ARRANGEMENTS AMPLE.

Convention Hall Will Seat Twenty Thousand People.

It occupies a piece of ground 314 by 300 feet in extent, is two stories high and is built of native stone, cream brick and terra cotta. The seating capacity is nearly twenty thousand and with standing room the building is capable of holding more than 22,000 people.

1,000,000 DEATHS!

FROM CHOLERA DURING THE PAST YEAR.

The Germs of This Fatal Disease are Lurking Everywhere! Thousands of Dollars Saved by This Wonderful Discovery.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars
has been lost in the poultry business on account of the devastation
among the flocks, caused by cholera, roup, gape and other fatal diseases.
There have been many remedies advanced, but none seem to be so successful as the American Poultry Mixture. This will cure chickens in the last stage of cholera and roup, and is excellent for gapes. Do your fowls suffer from violent diarrhoea, dropping of the wings, stupor or excessive thirst? These are the first symptoms of cholera. Cholera is a germ disease and being infectious spreads rapidly through the entire flock. Take time by the forelock;
don't stop to experiment with unreliable or untried remedies. Use this mixture at once and the sanitary measures they recommend in connection. Don't give the fowls up.
Cholera is a terrible disease but this remedy cures it every time. It is also guaranteed for roup, which can be told by hoarse breathing, swelled eyes, discharge at the nostrils, resembling catarrh. Fifty dollars is offered for any case the Mixture will not cure. If some of your fowls are diseased it will prevent the rest from catching it. Try it. It is cheap, reliable and effective; a scientific preparation, goes more than three times as far as any other remedy, does more good than all of them combined. It is used and endorsed by the most experienced and largest breeders of plain and fancy poultry in all parts of the world. The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case send $1.00 for sample box
to American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

point of his defense was that the elec-

upon this decision the case was taken

Going Down Hill.

People suffering from Kidney Diseases feel a gradual but steady loss of strength and vitality. They find it impossible to lose no time in trying Morley's Kidney Cure, a Guaranteed Preparation.

It is better to take many injuries than to give one.

Most in Quantity, Best in Quality.

Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron is a tonic, a blood purifier and a blood maker. It does not stop with merely curing certain diseases, like scrofula, rashes, abscesses, but cleanses and builds up the whole system. All who have tried it say there is more cure in one bottle of Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron than in six of any other kind.

Two heads may be better than one but a man with a bad cold wouldn't think so.

No other medicine Builds Up and Fortifies the system against Malaria as well as Simmons Squaw Vine Wine or Tablets.—J. H. Morse.

It is living twice to be able to enjoy the past portion of life.

Neuralgia Banished.

There is no more severe or stubborn pain than neuralgia. A remedy that will cure it will cure any pain. Dr. G. S. Stivers, dentist, Louisville, Ky., says: "My wife suffered over two years from very severe neuralgia, which several physicians failed to relieve. I then got Morley's Wonderful Eight, which relieved her in five minutes and soon effected a permanent cure. Free trial bottles at Orme's drugstore."

The more a man tries to prove he isn't a fool, the more he proves he is.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her. This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung diseases. Only 50c and $1 Trial bottles free at J. H. Orme's drugstore.

HISTORY OF A CASE.

Cured by Osteopathy at Franklin, Kentucky

(By Geo. B. Crofton, Bowling Green, Kentucky)

In the spring of 1895 my daughter, Ruth Crofton, complained of a pain in her right knee. My wife bathed it with some liniment, etc., but the knee continued to swell and the pain continued to increase. We then took her to a physician, but as my daughter received no benefit from the treatment she was then taken to one of our oldest and best physicians. After trying the effect of two or three remedies this physician, in connection with another, came and put this limb in plaster of Paris.

Seeing that my daughter was growing weaker and that the knee was getting worse, I asked the attending physician to call another doctor. He readily consented and brought the doctor who had the reputation of being one of the best surgeons in Bowling Green. Of course they did not let me hear what passed between them, but I went to this surgeon the next day and asked him what he thought of the case. I asked him if he thought medicine was going to cure her. He said: "No, I am afraid not." Then I asked him if he thought an amputation necessary. His reply to this last question was: "You have the idea."

I arranged with the attending physician to take my daughter to Nashville to consult Dr. C. S. Briggs. The result of this consultation was that my daughter was placed in Dr. C. S. Briggs' private Infirmary December 14, and a surgical appliance made for her. The object of this appliance was to pull her knee joint apart.

From the 14th of December until about the first of March she was a patient of Dr. C. S. Briggs. But she gained nothing by her stay there, and it was while on the train returning from a visit to her that I met a gentleman on that train, who in conversation with me after hearing the story of my daughter's affliction, told me of Judge Goodnight's wonderful recovery while under treatment by the Osteopaths.

I had little confidence in the new treatment. I assure you, but after thinking over it a few days, I made up my mind to go and talk to Judge Goodnight regarding the case. Even after hearing him tell what it had done for him and what he had seen it do for others, I still doubted. On the 9th of March I went to Franklin and consulted the operators at the Infirmary and arranged to take my daughter there for examination. They told me that her hip was involved. I handed them the money for a month's treatment of her, and told them I had no faith in their Osteopathy, but I would try it for a month. From early in the fall before this time my daughter had only slept two nights all night. The only sleep she got was while she was under the influence of opiates. When the effect of these passed off she was awake and suffering with more or less pain. After taking her to the Infirmary at Franklin twice for treatment they thought it best that we arrange to keep her in Franklin to give them the opportunity to produce the best results. I arranged for my wife and daughter to board in Franklin, near the Infirmary.

My daughter had not been under treatment two weeks before we saw an improvement in her condition. She got so that she could sleep and her appetite improved. She had a pair of crutches, but when she went there she was too weak to use them. The treatment gave her strength and she used her crutches, even going out doors when the weather would permit. One other matter I wish to state here; as I said she had taken quite a quantity of paragon. This had caused constipation and soon after beginning the treatment my wife wished to give my daughter some laxative medicine. To this the doctors of the Infirmary objected, saying that they could overcome this constipation without medicine, and,

IS THIS YOUR STORY?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble and my nerves are all unstrung. I am getting pale and thin. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

"What does your doctor say?"

"You are suffering from impure blood."

"What is his remedy?"

much to our surprise and gratification, did.

Soon after my daughter went to Franklin for treatment the Secretary of the State Board of Health commenced war upon the Osteopaths. I heard reports that Dr. Still, the discoverer or founder of the science was crazy. The pastor of our church (Cumberland Presbyterian) in Bowling Green, Rev. W. T. Ferguson, D. D., told me to write to Rev. J. B. Mitchell, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in Kirksville, and ask his opinion. This I did. Dr. Mitchell promptly replied that Dr. Still was a man of fine intellect and a sound mind, and that there had been some remarkable cures performed by the Osteopaths, remarkably, because Osteopathy had been resorted to after physicians of other schools had failed to effect a cure. Had Dr. McCormack succeeded in driving the Osteopaths from Kentucky I intended to take my daughter to another Infirmary beyond his reach. But he failed in his attempt to have them indicted, though many means were used.

When I decided to take my daughter to Franklin I wrote Dr. Briggs and asked him for my account, telling him I was going to try osteopathy. He sent the bill and said he had become attached to the child while there and he had no faith in the treatment, and after I was satisfied it would not benefit her he would like another chance. Dr. Briggs, and indeed all the physicians, had been very kind to her.

It was March when she went under the treatment and she continued until August and improved all the time. She took no medicine during this time. From two crutches she soon went to one crutch and a cane, then to the cane alone, and finally laid aside the cane. She weighed 69 pounds when she went to the Infirmary, and now she weighs 103 or 104. She limps a little yet, from habit, I think. Her limb that was wasted and withered is nearly the same as the other. One would have to look close to notice the difference.

Rich, Red Blood

Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron not only purifies your blood but makes new, rich, red blood. If you have skin eruptions, boils, abscesses, rheumatism or scrofula, or if you have a run down, tired-out feeling, try this remedy and note the prompt results. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by J. H. Orme,

As to the history of the case I can refer to our pastor, Dr. W. T. Ferguson, or any of our church people here, or any of my kind neighbors who did so much to try to relieve the suffering of daughter.

I referred to the part which Mr. McCormack played. I can not see why he should persecute these Osteopaths. They do cure many cases. Many they do not. The Allapattas and all their schools of medicine have the same experience. Personally, I have nothing against Dr. McCormack. I think he is a good physician and why he should wage warfare on these people is more than I can see. The better class of our citizens do not approve of it.

"FROM JAMESTOWN

Are You," is the Way Col W. J. Bryan Greeted a Marionite

Deland, Fla., Feb. 23, 1900.

DEAR EDITOR AND FRIENDS: As I sit alone in the midst of the big pine forest resting after a weary stroll, with not a living object to be seen nor a sound to be heard, save the song of the wind in the top of the tall green pine trees, I am tempted again to write, and as I stretch my vision out across the pine woods I can not measure to you its length, for I can't see the end of it. There is nothing but pine trees to be seen, no undergrowth except the grass, but I know the average Marionite is now wondering where the flowers are. Flowers are very scarce here; occasionally you find a jessamine vine well covered with beautiful flowers, and now and then a rose can be had, but this is all, and it may seem strange to you to know that in the once favored orange belt of the State, there is now not a single grove in all the land bearing oranges, and the tourist who comes here expecting to pick the fruit fresh from the trees and eat until his appetite is satisfied and then go away with his pockets filled, finds himself a little out of order when he is informed that all the oranges he eats will cost him 5c each or 40c per doz. and while I am on prices let me say that the choice beef stake is 25c per pound; eggs 25c a dozen; frying chickens 40c each; corn 65c bushel; lay $1.10 cwt, and flour $5.50 per barrel. So you see food can not be very cheap here, but I was very fortunate in getting a good place in a private boarding house with eleven other guests coming from different parts of this habitable globe, but they all meet on one common level, at least three times each day—breakfast, dinner and supper; but when the meals are served we all disperse in every direction, only to await a regular eating hour. For the last three days it has been rather disagreeable, walking on account of the wind and sand. It has been something like our warmest March days, and to cap the climax yesterday at 1:30 p. m., the hour appointed for William Jennings Bryan to speak, it rained furiously. The arrangements were all made for Mr. Bryan to speak from one of the hotel verandas but the rain forced the Nebraska orator to go to the court house, and there the majority of the people were deprived of hearing their leader, but after all the Lord seemed to smile upon the occasion and before the speaking was over the sun shone out and every body made a rush to the depot with a faint hope that they might yet be permitted to touch the hem of his garment, and to the entire satisfaction of all the train, from some cause was delayed, and Mr. Bryan was courteous enough to come out from his car and give every one a chance to shake his hand, and the crowd grew so enthusiastic that I found myself shaking him no less than twice, and when I told him I was from Marion, Ky., a broad smile played across his face, and he said: "Yes, you are from Jamestown." Col. Bryan spoke at Jacksonville Thursday night. I must cut this letter short. I will probably have something more interesting next time as I am going down to Rock Ledge, and probably some other places, for I believe traveling does me more good than staying in the same place.

Yours truly,
JOHN H. MORSE.

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvelous growth? If not, The Weekly Enquirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States was taken in 1810. Since then every succeeding ten years. The result has been as follows:

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1810.....	7,239,881	1860.....	31,443,321
1820.....	9,638,822	1870.....	38,556,371

1840.....	17,069,453	1890.....	62,622,250
1850.....	23,191,876

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year.

The WEEKLY ENQUIRER is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

To the first nearest correct guess received.	$3,000.00
To the second.....	1,500.00
To the third.....	750.00
To the fourth.....	500.00
To the fifth.....	250.00
To the sixth.....	200.00
To the seventh.....	150.00
To the next 10, each $100, amounting to.	1,000.00
To the next 50, each $50, amounting to.	2,500.00
To the next 100, each $25, amounting to.	2,500.00
To the next 500, each $10, amounting to.	5,000.00
To the next 1,530, each $5, amounting to.	7,650.00

2197 cash presents amounting to $25,000.00

In case of a tie, money equally divided.

Every guess on the above proposition must be accompanied by a year's subscription to the WEEKLY ENQUIRER. You can guess as often as you care to inclose subscription price to the WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

This contest will close a month before the result of the census will be known and officially certified by the Director of the United States Census at Washington, D. C.

Subscription price for the WEEKLY ENQUIRER (including guess) is only $1.00 a year. Eleven copies and eleven guesses for $10.00. For full particulars see WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

J. R. Jennings.

John R. Jennings passed to his rest and reward Feb. 17, 1900. He was born in Prince Edward County Va., Nov. 12, 1820. When twelve years of age he moved to Hopkins county. There united with the C. P. Church near Dalton. August 16, 1855, was married to Ann E. Woodruff, ten children blessed this union, six sons and four daughters, eight of whom are left to mourn their loss. In the year 1883 Brother Jennings moved to Crittenden county. In 1884 united with the Presbyterian church at Marion; here remained a faithful and consistent member until death. He suffered two years from the effects of cancer, which caused his death.

Brother Jennings was well advanced in years, also in Christian living. We have been intimately acquainted with him for about seventeen years, worked together in Sunday School and church. Have seen his cup overflow with joy. Our dear brother's ways showed he had been with Jesus. O, how pleasant the thought that his soul is in that home of rest, where is perfect rest! We miss our brother, O, let us try to emulate his perfect walk and use his life as an incentive to better things! Let us remember how kind and genial he was, and patient in his last sickness, though his suffering was so great he never complained. We called often to see him, but always found him in the same quiet, trustful spirit. We have not the language to express our sympathy for the children and companion of our departed brother. All we can do is to commit to the power and love of Christ, that their father and husband so faithful, "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord," are wonderful of precious significance at the close of such a Christian life.

The funeral was preached at his home by Rev. B. H. Dupuy, text: Luke 3, 17. His remains were interred in the new cemetery at Marion, Ky. In early life Mr. Jennings engaged in teaching school and in merchandising a short time, but most of his life was spent on the farm.

WHY SHE IS SERENE

NO WONDER JAPANESE WOMEN
ARE HAPPY.

Their Simple, Sensible Housekeeping
—The Silly Idea of Striving Eternally for Possessions—Agnes Olcott's Gossip.

(New York Letter.)

"If you are not careful you'll soon be as bad as the rest of the women, who drink tea and spend their time cleaning or worrying about dust," said an indignant husband the other night when he found his wife tired, nervous and cross.

As a matter of fact we do spend a good deal of time trying to keep our houses clean, and few of us succeed—here in New York, anyway.

I have been hearing some interesting lectures about the Japanese recently, and I made a mental comparison between the tired New York housekeeper and her Japanese counterpart, and I thought the oriental had rather the best of it in the way of domestic arrangements, in spite of the fact that she is brought up to render implicit obedience to her parents and afterward to her husband.

No wonder the Japanese woman is tranquil and smiling and plump. She is tranquil because it is part of her religion to be so. The great bronze Buddha shows in his impassive face what is meant to have attained Nirvana—the death of all desire. Although the Japanese possess highly organized nervous systems, it is not good form for either a man or woman to give way to nerves. A Jap will suffer tortures of physical pain before he will be guilty of bad manners.

But to go back to the housekeeping. No wonder the hostess has time for all the charming graces of womanhood, to sing, play on the samisen, embroider or arrange flowers artistically. The floor is covered with matting and the shoes are removed on entering the immaculate abode. Think of that, ye American mothers, with boys who bring in mud and sand a dozen times a day and never remember the existence of a doormat!

Now it may be uncomfortable, even painful, for muscles not trained from childhood to sit on the floor, but think of the amount of labor saved in dusting and polishing chairs. Then, the table service—so simple! No silver knives and forks to polish, nor steel ones to scour, but simply a pair of new white pine chopsticks, a fresh pair every meal, slightly joined at the ends to show that they have never been used before. No wonder Japan stands foremost as one of the most scrupulously clean nations of the world.

Compare the tissue paper houses of Japan, which like a tent, inspires perfect ventilation, with a modern steam-heated apartment in New York. Some people are not content with lace curtains, but have three curtains at some windows. Heavy portieres, upholstered furniture and countless ornaments form excellent lodging places for dust and dirt. We load our parlors and cabinets with the pottery and curios of all countries, until our rooms look like old curiosity shops, and I often feel like looking for the price tags.

But the Jap, while he may possess many treasures, a rare bit of cloisonne or a Satsuma vase or a lovely blue and white Imari jardiniere, says nothing of bronzes, does not crowd them all into one room. Oh, no; he puts his cloisonne vase on his hand-some carved teak wood stand and admires it for a day or week or month, and then replaces it with another treasure and feasts his eyes on that.

One of the most artistic houses I have ever entered belongs to a Quaker lady who loves beautiful things. It is an old-fashioned wooden house in Brooklyn, N. Y., with a hall running through the centre, a salon parlor on the left and the dining room and kitchen on the right. She has furnished it harmoniously with old-fashioned mahogany furniture of the colonial period, the style that never becomes out of date because it is so truly beautiful. She has gradually collected one at a time, quaint chairs, tiny tables, an old clock, a handsome solid buffet, a charming desk. But she was wise and kept strictly to one style, so the completed home looks as if it might have descended from a Puritan ancestor. Even the knocker on the front door is in keeping with the quaint interior. Beautiful growing plants are everywhere, and there is a feeling of peace about the house and a charm that many houses exquisitely furnished, from an upholsterer's point of view, cannot give. And the lady, too, with her white hair and gentle manners, has something of the charm of the Japanese woman in her reposeful way and smile of welcome.

Most homes are simply a heterogeneous mass of odds and ends, contrasting styles and jarring colors. If we could cast aside the really useless and ugly articles in our houses, and save only what is artistic and harmonious, the effect would be more pleasing to the eye and infinitely less labor for the hands. When an art dealer has a priceless painting to sell, he puts it in a room or alcove by itself and has only dull draperies around it, with the light thrown on the picture. The clever Jap does the same thing.

Why do we all strain eternally for possessions. We know they bring more care. Some of us have not learned to enjoy beauty except as we individuals possess it. We are but children, and like children long for trifles that we see other grown-up children have.

If you live in a small town, and cannot travel, and there is no art gallery or museum, and you cannot even have access to books and photographs, you still have nature. Whether you live on the prairie or in the mountains, every day will show you some picture that would delight some artist. It is only the artistic eye that sees the beauty of gray cloudy days, the plodding cattle, the herd of sheep, the farmer at the plough. To appreciate Millet, Jules Breton, Corot, Troyon, Maize—any of the painters who painted nature—we must see with their eyes. The world is so full of beauty, God given, that it is criminal in us women not to and a few minutes each day to devote to the beautiful.
